Way Up-Celso Cæsar Moreno.

The voice of the people is the voice of God.

To all true born citizens of the country greeting. We have with us one Celso Casar Moreno, a natural ized and true Hawaiian. His great desire is the advancement of this country in wealth, and the salvation of this people, by placing the leading positions of Government in the hands of the Hawaiians for administration. The great desire of Moreno is to cast down foreigners from official positions and to put true Hawaiians in their places, because to them belongs the country. They should hold the Government and not strangers. This has been the cause of the decrease of this people. Positions have been taken from Hawaiians and given to strangers. C. C. Mozeno desires to throw down three foreigners, and elevate to high positions the people to whom belongs the land that is the red-skins. This is the real reason of jealousy on the part of foreigners of this city, viz., that Hawaiians shall be placed above them in all things in this well-beloved country. C. Moreno is the heart from whence will issue life to

The above in the substance of a placerd posted of the country, and it would be for the King in on hing street generality. It requires no ownment. Pax-javers may judge for the aselves! Assembly, and after leaving dustrient time to J W Mo

THE PACIFIC

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21.

THE PREVAILING feeling during the past week among all who respected His Majesty was one of sadness that evil advisers should have held such sway in the Royal Councils. It was plainly evident that there must be an interruption of friendly diplomatic intercourse with foreign powers i a certain appointment was persisted in, and there was a general wish that any diplomatic remonstrance might be avoided by timely concession. This we believe was at last accomplished, but not before a rude shock had been given to public

THE LATE MINISTRY-Mesers. Wilder, Kapena Kasi, and Preston-took office on the 3rd of July, 1878. During the past two years they filled their respective offices with credit to themselves, and with the almost universal approbation of the public. Men holding high public positions, and also having business connections in the country, cannot fall to be criticized, but the victory is gained when that criticism is challenged. The ex-Minister of the Interior, to use his own words, made his mark in this country. He devoted the largest portion of his time to the country, and, had he been retained in office, we might expect to have seen in two or three years hence the development of those plans which he has devised, and the judicious expenditure of the large sums that have been appropriated for permanent improvements. Of his colleagues we can only speak in equally high terms, and it is further a pleasure for us to testify to the estimation in which they were beld, and the respect shown to them by their subordinates. The late vote of " want of confidence" brought forward in the Assembly proves their position with the Nobles and Representatives, and the general demonstration of public sentiment already expressed, and which still pervades this city, goes to show that their recent peremptory dismissal from office is inexplicable.

THE PAST WEEK has been one of much excite-The stmr Ho Chung will return to this port from San ment. During the day of our last issue the prorogation of the Legislative Assembly, and the returning by His Majesty of some exceptional bills, had relieved the public mind from the anxious strain of the previous few weeks; and our citizens were about to turn to their usual avocations free from the anxiety caused by fears of reckless legislation, when it was suddenly announced that the efficient and capable Cabinet Ministers who had successfully, and entirely to the public satisfaction, conducted the affairs of the Government for the last two years, and who The Sir William Wallace is loading at Newcastle, N.S | had laid careful plans for the coming two years, which had received the sanction of the Legislative Assembly, had been summarily and rudely dismissed from office.

This sudden action alone was enough to cause anxiety, but it was hoped that it was but an act for which good reason would be given, and that their successors would be men worthy of public confidence; but even this hope was dashed when the names of the new Cabinet was made known. Not in the history of the present reign has the public mind been so agitated and alarmed, and it may be added so recklessly, for prosperous as the reign has been, there was never less need of a change in the Ministry.

WE ARE credibly informed that the China steamer Hochung brought over from China $500, 000 for the purpose of tendering a loan to this Government. Now as it is a well known fact that the Hochung is a Government steamer, s statement we make on the letter of Mr. C. C. Moreno, to which appeared in the Hawaiian Gazette of November 26, 1879, we naturally presume this is Government money. Supposing the loan bill had passed, what might have been the result, and in this connection the question suggests itself why the sudden change of Ministry? There is a link in these matters which can possibly be detected. On the other hand, why not borrow from China if money can be had from there cheaper than elsewhere. But this hardly seems feasible when we know that China has, during the past six years, borrowed largely from foreign markets, principally London. For the informafollowing loans. Chinese Imperial Government loan of 1874, £533,415, bearing interest at 8 per cent. Ditto of 1877, £1,604,276 at 8 per cent. Ditto of 1878, $2,599,333 at 8 per cent. These loans are secured by the Customs revenue which for the year 1879, amounted to nearly $20,000, 000. China may be the treasury of the world, but she has not yet become a lender of money to other nations without some ulterior object in view. The wire pulling is of a peculiar nature, and one that will not bear a strict investigation.

A RETROSPECT of the past seven days' events would fill all the colums of this journal if given in detail, but briefly they are as follows: On Saturday Parliament was prorogued after being in session since the 30th of April. Scarcely had the ceremony been concluded than an announcement was made that the Ministry was dismissed. This was followed by the spread of the news of

We shall probably again refer to this matter at

On Sunday morning there was an unusual murmuring of dissent from the Regal action. On Monday a meeting was organized " for the purpose of expressing public opinion upon the action of His Majesty in removing the late Cabinet, and in appointing in the place thereof others, particularly one, C. C. Moreno, an alien unknown to the people." Elsewhere we give a detailed account of the meeting. On Tuesday the excitement continued, mainly wing to no reply being received to the resolution presented to His Majesty, and also on account of the deputation having failed to obtain

A deputation again waited on His has identified himself with interests hostile to the Majesty who received them through his Chamberlain, on the plea of ill-health. The reception was however favorable, and his reply enthusiastically received by the meeting. On Thursday rumors of a re-action having set in altered the aspect of affairs, which was further corroborated by a summons for all loyal subjects of His Majesty to again attend Kaumakapii church on Friday at 5 P. M. Who are they that are not loyal we would ask?

Last night's mob-meeting was largely attended, at which two resolutions were passed, one retracting the action of Monday, and another thanking His Majesty for ejecting the lately appointed Minister of Foreign Relations. The meeting was noisy, and not conducted with the same rectitude as those previous-

THE DISMISSAL of a Ministry appears to be a matter not regulated in this country by any authoritative precedent. the English method, and there seems to be no good reason why it should not be adopted here It also may happen that His Majesty may have good reasons for dismissing a Ministry, which affect the public welfare, and are not generally known. The wisest and safest course for him to ollow would be to trust his Ministers, and give them the requisite power to administer national affairs as long as they are in office, and when he finds that they do not command the confidence of the country at large, then to discharge them.

But the dismissal of the last Ministry is not the question which is now pressing upon the community. It is insisted by some who regard the recent appointments as proper, that the public cannot call in question the propriety of the King's Cabinet appointments without en-croaching upon the Royal prerogative. No greater mistake could be made. The officers of he English service, civil and military, are styled Her Majesty's officers, of whatever rank or position. If it happens that Her Majesty has com-missioned a General in charge of her armies, for instance, who turns out to be incompetent, or to be unsuccessful in securing confidence, the officer is for that reason dismissed, and that without anyone imagining that the Queen's prerogative is affected. If Her Majesty's Premier is so unpopular that her national affairs do not work smoothly, a new Premier for that reason takes his place, and all the Ministers connected with him go out at the same time as a matter of course. in order that she may be free to make a new and barmonious Ministry. This is what should occur here in this country. The retirement of Mr. Moreno, for reasons which were satisfactory to His Majesty, involves the calling of another Premier who would have the right to suggest his associates. The Ministers now in office should, from ordinary courtesy, relieve His Majesty from his present embarrassment by sending in their commissions at once. He would then look around for some person who had the confidence of the community to arrange a new Cabinet. This is the regular way with Sovereigns of great and powerful nations. Why should it be different with this nation?

FROM LATE BRITISH State papers, relating to Turkey, we make the following extracts which, had wiser counsels not prevailed, might even have been applicable to our own country. In a dispatch from Sir A. H. Layard to Her Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Turkish statesmen and functionaries, and the most in-telligent Turks, are fully alive to the dangers which threaten the Empire, and are prepared for the adoption of decisive and radical measures to avert them. The most distinguished of them have been sent away from the capital into honourable exile as Governors-General or to fill other posts, because they are known to advocate a change of systems, Mahmoud Nedim, Safvet, and Haireddin Pashas being the only men of note left in Constantinople. There is a general conviction that the only measures that can save Turkey from speedy collapse are the immediate dismissal of the present incompetent Ministry; the removal from the Palace and from access to the Sultan of those men who now exercise an evil inluence over him."

"Under these circumstances it appears to me that the Powers have a right, if they think fit to exercise it, to lemand that the National Assembly should be called to-gether. If Her Majesty's Government were disposed to do so alone, or in conjunction with other Governments, they would. I believe, be supported by the most intelligent, enlightened, and liberal public opinion in the Empire. An adequate control might, in this case, be placed in the arbitrary power of the Sultan, the few experienced and enlightened men who are still to be found in Turkey might be called to His Majesty's counsels, and those reforms which can alone save the country from a rapid and speedy downfall, might be put into execution

The following are the instructions of Lord Granville to the Right Hon. G. J. Goschen: "There are not wanting men of upright character who have shown themselves capable of a better system of government; but the Sultan has thought fit to reject their counsels, and to allow himself to be guided by an reforms, and who will complete the ruin of the Empire unless the Sultan frees himself in time from their unfortunate influence." The above extracts should give food for reflection to those who affect to underrate the opinions and interests of foreigners, and the Representatives of Foreign Governments. The appointment of " men of upright character, supported by the most intelligent, enlightened and liberal public opinion" of a nation to govern its affairs, is one of the highest duties which a Sovereign owes, not only to his subjects, but to the sovereigns and nations with which he holds relations. This is one of those necessary "That law is common to all nations, and if anyone o them does not respect it in her actions she violates the common rights of the others."

And he further says: States conduct themselves in a different manner from individuals. It is not usually the caprice or blind im-petuosity of a single person that forms the resolutions and determines the measures of the public, they are car-ried on with more deliberation an circumspection."

Alluding to the maxim of Cicero that-"without a strict attention to the most rigid justice public affairs cannot be advantageously adminis-

"Providence occasionally bestows on the world Kings and Ministers who are impressed with this great truth. Let us not renounce the pleasing hope that these wise conductors of nations will one day be multiplied." Now rigid justice demands that wise and capable men be appointed to govern the nation. We shall close with one more quotation: "The law of Nations is the law of Sovereigns. It is principally for them and their Ministers that it ought to be written." It will be seen that in the exercise of the high prerogative of appointing Ministers of State, attention should be paid to the obligations imposed by the laws of nations, which Hawaii comes under as one admitted to the rights of nations, and which cannot be evaded without relapsing into barbarism, and forfeiting those

Mass Meeting.

HELD ON MONDAY LAST AT KAUMAKAPILI CHURCH. A meeting was called for half-past seven o'clock, and long before that hour the streets were crowded with Hawaiians and foreigners wending their way to the scene of action. The hall was filled to overflowing, while many failed to gain admittance.

Mr. H. Waterhouse called the Assembly to order.

Messrs. Pilipo and W. R. Castle were appointed Chairmen, Henry Macfarlane and Kalama, Secretaries, and W. H. Rice, Interpreter. Mr. W. R. Castle explained the object of the meeting. They desire to express to His Majesty that the dismissal of the late Cabinet did not meet with public pproval, and the appointment of other parties to the respective posts, more especially that of C. C. Moreno, as Minister of Foreign Relations, was not accordance with public sentiment.

Mr. Dole then introduced the following resolution which he also supported with a vehement but sound speech, condemning the action of His Majesty as contrary to the Constitution. He received loud and

Mr. John M. Kapena, ex-Minister of Foreign Relations, came forward and was greeted with loud applause, but as he proceeded the tide turned, as he spoke disparagingly of the resolution and even de-nounced it as traitorous. In our previous notice of the Pianos in the Exhibition (No. IV) in connection with those of the German Court, we were unable to do more than enumerate the exhibits of L. NEU-FELD, of Berlin, and that enumeration was erroneous. Since writing that notice, the Sydney agents. Messrs. Rabone, Feez writing that notice, the Sydney agents. Messrs. Rabone, Feez of which four are exhibited instead of two, as formerly stated. The First is a grand of full compass 7½ octaves, overstrung "an acoustical metal frame in agraffes, the action is perfect unfailing repetition," All the modern improvements are applied; the instrument is cased in walnut of flue tone and light touch, and being in addition by far the most priceworthy and ought to command the most ready market.

No. 2 is an upright cottage grand, with iron frame over strung, well finished, and cased in a handsome frame in the Louis Quatorze style. No. 3 is an upright cottage, simpler in the exterior, but with substantial metal frame, and all the evidences of thorough care in the internal construction. No. 4 is an overstrung upright boudoir cottage, of very agreeable tone.

Having theroughly examined the westments to the structure of the property of the p Having thoroughly examined the workmanship and construction, and tested tous and touch, we are able to speak with confidence on the sterling merits of these instruments, especially when we compare the prices with those of other examples.
